Dear Illan,

Thank you for getting in touch.

This one hasn't made its way to me through our system yet, however looking at the application, Historic England won't have comments to make at this stage so hopefully you can get on with investigative works in the suitable window. I will action this formally as soon as it comes my way.

Comments from us are more likely to come at the next round of LBC, at which point it may then be good to have a conversation.

With best wishes for the weekend.

Kind regards,
Isobel Hartley
